

Mauro Maia

Senior Partner, F2i

Mauro Maia joined F2i in March 2010. He is responsible for the investment of funds in the airports, highways and telecommunications sector. Prior to this Mauro worked for more than 20 years in the investment banking sector, with Mediobanca, where he was managing director from 2006 in charge of coverage and advisory activities in the infrastructure sector in Europe. Before 2006, he worked in other financial areas, such as project finance, structured finance, debt capital market and securitisation. He has led some landmark transactions in the Italian infrastructure sector in the last ten years, such as the acquisition of Aeroporti di Roma by Gemina, the sale of a stake in Aeroporti di Roma to Macquarie Funds, the IPO of SAVE, Venice Airport and other relevant transactions with Atlantia, Gavio Group, SEA, Sacbo, Alitalia and Ferrovie dello Stato. He was vice chairman of Metroweb Italia S.p.A, a company leader in fibre optics, and a board member of SEA S.p.A., a company which manages the two airports of Milan. He was responsible for F2i's acquisition stakes in SEA, Sagat (Turin Airport), Gesac (Naples Airport), Sogeaal (Alghero Airport) and the divestiture of F2i's shares in Florence Airport. Mauro is currently chairman of Sogeaal and board member of Sagat.
