

Christoph Nanke

Senior Vice President, Global Investments & Management, Fraport AG

Christoph has more than 15 years of international experience in the aviation industry. He is deputy head of Fraport's Global Investment & Management Department, which manages Fraport's international airport portfolio and is responsible for all investment activities in Western Europe and the Americas.

Christoph is President of the Investors Committee of Ljubljana Airport, Slovenia, Vice President and member of the board of Fraport Greece and member of the board of Hanover Airport (Germany). For many years, he was also a member of the board of Delhi International Airport (India), Pulkovo Airport (St. Petersburg, Russia) and Vice Chairman of Xi'an International Airport (China).

During recent years, Christoph has successfully headed a number of important transactions for Fraport.

Before taking over his current position, he was CEO of Fraport Ground Services Austria in Vienna. Before joining the aviation business, he worked for several years in the banking industry. Christoph has a university degree in business administration from Otto-Friedrich-University, Bamberg, Germany.