

Stephen O'Driscoll

Head of Air, Maritime and Innovative Transport, European Investment Bank

Stephen heads up a team that assesses through technical, economic and environmental due diligence whether projects seeking Bank financing in the aviation, maritime and innovative transport sectors are viable. In the aviation sector, the EIB finances investment projects in airport development, ATM upgrades, aircraft R&D programmes and the acquisition of aircraft. Stephen started his career at BAA and has since worked for various consultancy firms specialising in the aviation sector.
