

Fintan Towey

Director General of Civil Aviation, Department of Transport, Tourism and Sport, Ireland

Fintan Towey has been Director General of Civil Aviation in Ireland since 2015.

Before being appointed Director General, Fintan held senior roles in public transport, civil aviation and corporate management. As a career civil servant with extensive experience in network industries spanning transport, energy and telecommunications, Fintan has gained wide experience of market liberalisation, frameworks for economic and safety regulation, State Company shareholder roles, privatisation and management of organisational change.